Valuing children

Child-centric leadership

Transforming systems for children

this is more than another brochure.
to us it is a declaration of what can be achieved in making a difference in the life of a child

engage. enlighten. enable.

Our success comes from the quality of our process and people. Our process brings a discipline of thought and rigour in execution necessary in the modern world. Our people equip leaders to make a difference.

Most of our clients come through word of mouth recommendation.

Support for teams to deliver...

rezolv team support packages allow teams to work with speed and focus on ambitious outcomes – saving time and money. Challenging initiatives are delivered and leaders grow their overall understanding of service delivery including the perspectives of children and families.

“As team leader it was great to have the support I needed to help my team reinvent itself so it can be more relevant to local families.”

Lead officer

The rezolv community and student engagement process gives parents and young people a voice. Our focus groups make it easy for parents, children and communities to have their say and help managers formulate plans to better meet local need.

Programmes that make a difference...

“The tools I learnt are so powerful. They make things happen quickly. I use them in all our briefings – Like so much of the rezolv process it’s become a way of working for me.”

Head Teacher

rezolv seminar and masterclass programme give managers an appetite to bring best practice to their work life. Participants gain confidence to take the lead in some of today’s most challenging public sector agendas.

Each programme shares easily grasped thinking tools and processes. All are illustrated with practical insights. Assignments encourage immediate application. Seminars are spread in two week cycles to minimise disruption and maximise impact and learning.

Development days that impact...

rezolv inset and development days motivate and invigorate teams or whole organisations.

“The intensity of this day makes it real professional development.
It’s the kind of day every director should invest in.”

Director of Finance

The days enlighten by sharing valuable insights into every day professional life in stimulating, engaging and participant friendly ways. All participants enjoy the quality of the rezolv materials – including personal diagnostics.

Mentoring that builds executive leaders...

“I enjoyed the first proper on-going professional dialogue about my day job. I am now leading not just doing what we’ve always done.”

Department Head

Our one to one mentoring builds personal accountability while providing a trusted confidant, who challenges, stimulates and acts as a sounding board. Participants develop personal resolve and their willingness to embrace accountability usually leads to rapid promotion within their organisation.
